DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK.

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Oklahoma.

THAT the business men of the home city have a desire to see the city grow and keep growing. If properly supported, they have the ability to carry that desire to a successful conclusion.

They have the absolute conviction that it can and will be done.

A city grows as its business grows. It is up to every citizen to do his share toward making better business for the home city.

Your merchants carry the best, so why trade elsewhere?

To buy the right kind of merchandise at the right price is utmost in the minds of all.

If you will give all your business to your home merchants, the values given will be sure to make you a satisfied customer.

Progressive merchants are always on the outlook for bargains in quality goods, and they pass them on to you.

HAVE FAITH IN YOUR MERCHANTS AND YOUR CITY. THAT KIND OF FAITH IS CONTAGIOUS. IT IS THE KIND OF FAITH THAT BUILDS CITIES.

GOING AFTER DEVINE-HONDO HIGHWAY.

Following the action of the Hondo Luncheon Club in appointing a committee to act with a committee from Devine on the matter of securing a state highway between the two points, with the hope of extending the same southeastward to connect with other state highways at Jourdan and further on, Messrs. H. W. Eschenburg, of Devine and Garland Martin, Judge H. E. Haas and Fletcher Davis for the Hondo Luncheon Club were heard by the Commissioners Court last Monday afternoon. After some informal discussion, it became the consensus of opinion that the first step to take was to secure a hearing before the State Highway Commission, there to determine whether the Commission will consider the project, and if so, to ask that an engineer view the prospective route and make a report on just what the Commission will agree to do.

The court agreed to seek this hearing before the Highway Commission, and accordingly Judge Noonan took the matter up with Representative Johnson of this District, a hearing was arranged for before the Commission this (Friday) morning at 9 o'clock in Austin. Judge R. J. Noonan, Commissioner H. F. Buss, Henry Merriman and Garland Martin went to Austin this morning early, where they will meet a committee from Devine, headed by Commissioner Robinson of that precinct, and possibly a committee from Jourdan, headed by Representative Jones from there, and with Representative A. P. Johnson will lay the matter before the Highway Commission.

It is to be hoped the matter gets favorable consideration as the people of Devine have long needed better highway facilities to the county seat, and such a highway would be of incalculable value to Hondo.

ELITE BRIDGE CLUB.

The members of the Elite Bridge Club with their husbands were delightfully entertained at bridge Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Windrow as hosts. A pink and green color scheme was carried out in all bridge appointments and decorations were lovely pink roses in green bowls. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Connevey each won high score for the men and ladies of the Club.

Delicious angel food cake and ice cream, also featuring the chosen color motif, were served.

These present were Mr. and Mrs. Volney Boon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kollman, Mr. and Mrs. Will Crow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Windrow, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lacy and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Connevey and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. George Windrow.

PLACE 2

ATTENTION DEMOCRATS.

On page three of this paper you will find a copy of the ballot to be used in the primary election to be held in the county at the various voting precincts Saturday, July 23rd.

You must not take this copy or any other printed or written memoranda, with you to the polls. Therefore, you should study this copy until you know how to scratch the names of all candidates for whom you do not wish to vote and leave only the name of the one candidate for each office for which you wish to vote. This is the only way to make it count for your choice. Where more than one is running for an office if you do not scratch all under that office except your choice he loses your vote for the office as it can be counted for none if more than one name is left unscratched under the name of the office.

You will be given two ballots, the prohibition submission ballot being on a sheet separate from the regular ballot. It should be scratched and handled in the same manner as the regular ballot.

The election law contemplates the holding of precinct primaries in each precinct, after the polls close in the evening, to select a precinct chairman for the next two years and to select precinct delegates to the regular county convention to convene in Hondo, Saturday, July 30th, and there select a County Chairman for the next two years. But without doing violence to the spirit of the law and to simplify the matter and give every one a chance to have a voice in their selection, it is provided for disposing of these matters by writing in the names in blanks for that purpose on the ballot. Do not overlook this as it is important, and men or women should be selected who will attend to the duties the respective places involve.

The ballots and supplies are ready for the respective precincts at the Anvil Herald print shop and will be delivered to any responsible party calling for his precinct supply. The supplies have been gotten up on the simplest and most economical plan possible, but at that they entailed considerable labor and expense—most of which will have to be duplicated for the run-off in August—and unless the patriots are generous in kicking in the committee will go into the hands of a receiver and leave the printer holding the bag. The supplies could not be safely delayed longer, however, so if you want to help send or hand a contribution to Judge H. E. Haas, Secretary of the Committee.

WIN CASH AWARDS.

The awarding of cash premiums continued to draw large attendance of Hondo's Trades Day, Wednesday afternoon, July 13, when six people were winners of awards ranging from $20.00 for the first and $5.00 for the last. Miss Irene Mecher held the first winning ticket for $20.00; Mrs. Willie Heyen and Mrs. Sam Neuman each received $10.00 for second and third respectively; and $5.00 awards were made to G. W. Scott, J. G. Britsch and J. E. Murphy.

Merchandise was won as follows: a kodak, donated by Windrow's Drug Store, Mrs. Emil Riff; groceries by M-System, E. S. Searcy; can of oil by M. F. Schweers, Mrs. E. Nester; merchandise by E. R. Leinweber Co., Herman Koch; can of paint by the Alamo Lumber Co., Ben Oefinger; and cheese and bread knives by C. R. Gaines, Mrs. Joe Breiten.

Preceding the drawing Master of Ceremonies W. N. Saathoff gave a few brief remarks on the coming political race and spoke in behalf of his friend, L. A. Woods, candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He then introduced Hon. A. P. Johnson of Carrizo Springs, candidate for re-election to 77th Representative District, who gave a short talk.

Next Trades Day is scheduled for the second Wednesday of the month, the 10th of August.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met with Miss Lora King, July 11, at 4 o'clock, with ten members and one guest, Mrs. Lancaster's mother, present. Mrs. Theo. Barnes, who was leader for the afternoon, made the program very interesting.

Mrs. D. H. Fly and Miss Bertha Newton gave able discussions on the leaflet, "China Travels Forward"; and Mrs. J. A. Horger told "The Story of Pioneers" in her own pleasing manner.

After this part of the program, Mrs. Barnes read a Scripture related to "Finding God in Daily Life" and Mrs. J. G. Newton and Mrs. D. H. Fly read "Call to Worship" from the Methodist Church organ, "The World Outlook". The program was closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Among the many marriages that the Anvil Herald announces this week is that of William (Tinsey) Mask to Miss Ella Vee Davenport of Sabinal. The wedding took place Tuesday at Sabinal. Tinsey attended high school here and also attended Schreiner Institute at Kerrville. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mask of this place. Both young people have a wide circle of friends in Hondo and Sabinal who wish them happiness in their future life.

TO THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS:

I take this means of expressing to you my sincere thanks and appreciation for the many honors which the people of Texas have bestowed upon me.

You, no doubt, know that I am a candidate for re-election for my second full term as your Railroad Commissioner. Due to the depressed conditions and the heavy duties placed upon the Commission at this time, it compels me to rely upon my friends to take care of my interests in this campaign.

In the first primary, in which I was elected to my first full term and am now serving, I carried 234 of the 256 counties of our great State by a large majority, over two non-viable opponents.

Since my election to the Commission, we have turned back into the General Revenue Fund more than $500,000.00. We have heard and rendered decision on more than fifteen thousand cases, and have had only four reversals—a record unsurpassed by any similar body in the United States.

A faithful discharge of public duty in the past is the best guarantee of a promise to perform a like service in the future.

Your vote and support earnestly requested.

Sincerely yours,
C. V. TERRELL,
of Wise County.

BENDELE-KRENMUELLER.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, July 12, 1932, in St. John's Catholic Church of Hondo, when Miss Pauline Krenmueller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krenmueller, became the bride of Mr. Oscar Bendele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Armin Bendele. The impressive double ring ceremony was used, followed by a Nuptial High Mass with Rev. John Gerbermann as celebrant.

Profusions of white Zinnias, Shasta daisies and asparagus fern adorned the altars, and floor baskets of the bridal flowers were simply but beautifully arranged along the aisle and in the Sanctuary.

To the processional the bride entered with her brother, Mr. Joe Krenmueller, who gave his sister in marriage. They were preceded by the bridesmaids, Misses Marcella Krenmueller and Thelma Bendele, sisters of the groom and bride respectively, who entered together. The bride was followed by little Miss Elsie Bell Bendele, as ring bearer, who carried the rings on a satin pillow. The groom and his brother, Mr. Walter Bendele, who served as best man, entered from the sacristy.

The bride was lovely in white net, with tulle veil and wealth of orange blossoms. Long white gloves and satin slippers completed the bride's costume. She carried an arm bouquet of daisies, white Zinnias and fern. Miss Marcella Krenmueller wore yellow net, and a wreath of silver leaves was worn as a head-dress. She carried yellow Zinnias in an arm bouquet. Miss Thelma Bendele's dress was of peach net, and her head-dress of silver leaves. She carried Zinnias of harmonizing colors. Little Miss Bendele was daintily dressed in rose net over a silk slip, and wore a large bow of rose satin ribbon in her hair.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate families of the young couple at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krenmueller. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Bendele left for a wedding trip to Corpus Christi. On their return they will be at home in their newly completed home at Entepre, where the groom is engaged in farming and stock raising.

This paper joins the many friends of the young couple in extending best wishes.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

A double wedding of interest to many Anvil Herald readers took place in New Braunfels at 10 o'clock last Saturday morning, July 9, 1932, when Miss Dovie Ferber became the bride of Bobbie Heckman and Miss Charlotte Davis the bride of Ernest M. Brack. Mrs. Brack is a granddaughter of Mrs. O. Haralson of this place, and her many friends here will join the Anvil Herald in extending best wishes to the bride and congratulations to the lucky groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Koch, Sr., were here from San Antonio Tuesday visiting relatives and friends, and while here paid our office a business call.

COUNTY LOSSES ON BRIDGES
MANY THOUSANDS.

Commissioner J. W. Roberson says all his larger bridges are safe, but many little culverts went out. The big bridge on the Yancey road is damaged a few hundred dollars by washout approaches and the falling of two large trees on the abutment, from the washout. It will be several days before it is passable. He says the Hondo and Black Creek were two to four feet higher than he ever saw them in forty years. His farm at Black Creek was much of it under water but he figures the rain worth more than the damages. One large bridge on the Seco, in the other precinct, is reported gone.

Mrs. Leo Bohl of Black Creek stated over telephone late Sunday to this office that the creek had been very high, and spread over a large area near the Bohl farm from the Albert Keller farm, on the east a vast sea of water Saturday morning.

FROM YANCEY.

My, but we did have the rain! Creeks are higher than ever before. We had about nine inches and we learn from other places where they had twice or three times that amount.

Mrs. J. W. McCaughan and family came in Saturday night from Smiley and Gonzales. They had spent the past week visiting and report no rain until they reached San Antonio.

We are very sorry to announce that Lloyd and Helen Bohmfalk are still very sick; for a few days they showed a slight improvement but later became worse. Helen is very critically ill and will have a slight operation this day. She has an accumulation of pus on her lungs. We hope they will soon be out of danger again.

Mrs. F. W. Bohmfalk has been at the bedside of her children in Hondo for the past three weeks.

Mr. J. D. Baker is very sick with mumps.

Miss Missouri Baker is spending her vacation at home with the folks here.

Mrs. Ida Ward is in Hondo at the hospital as special nurse for Helen Bohmfalk.

Miss Agnes Wiemers is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ward.

Miss Dora Mae Wilson came home Sunday from San Antonio where she was waterbound since Friday.

Mrs. Herman Faselers returned Thursday from Mason where she was called to the bedside of her mother, whos was taken ill suddenly. We are glad to report that Mrs. Schneider is improving.

Mrs. Null received word from Muldoon that her mother is getting along nicely after an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweet of San Antonio came to spend several days with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. Erle Weekly and daughter and children came from Smiley Sunday and will remain with Mr. James Weekly and family for several days.

FROM BIRY.

Miss Ruby Bendele from Castroville returned home after spending the week with Miss Adelia Biry.

Louis and August Haass spent Wednesday at Pearsall with relatives. Mr. August Bilhartz of Pearsall spent Wednesday with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McCollum of San Antonio spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Emma Haass.

Mr. Earl Carl spent the week-end in San Antonio.

Mrs. Ernest Hardt and children returned to their home in Thompsonville. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. W. A. Love, and Miss Ruby and Homer Love and Mrs. H. J. Hardt of Yancey.

Miss Lucille Littleton returned home after spending a few days with Miss Inez Nations of San Antonio.

Mr. Chas. Owens from Corpus Christi is spending a few days with his brothers and sisters here.

The rain was fine, having between 11 and 12 inches. All branches and rivers were high.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bilhartz had as their guests for the week-end, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Bilhartz of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bilhartz and children from Ranger.

Miss Ruby Heath of San Marcos is spending some time with her parents.

Misses Lucille and Alma Bader are spending the week in LaCoste with Misses Biry.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Biry and children spent the 4th at Castroville.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

County Commissioners' Court met for its regular July 1932 Term at the courthouse in Hondo, Monday, July 11th, with all members present. A committee of citizens from Hondo and Devine met with the Commissioners, urging the Court to contact the State Highway Department regarding the construction by the State of a highway from Hondo to Devine. It was ordered by the Court that an appointment be made in which interested parties may appear before the Commission for the purpose of urging the construction of said highway by the State.

After the bills were approved, the Court was adjourned.

From a garden 300 feet long and 150 feet wide, Ruth Guttery, a 4-H club girl of Jim Wells county sold 212 pounds of cabbage in a recent two-week period, and a bit earlier sold off 1050 tomato plants.

Reserve District No. 11 ANNUAL FARM WASTE EQUALS PAPER SUPPLY.

Raw material enough to make several times the quantity of paper, as well as fiber board, acetate acid, alcohols, acetone, and charcoal, required by the country is produced each year in the United States in the straw of wheat, oats, barley, rye and rice, the stalks of corn and sugar-cane, and the wild marsh grasses, says the United States Department of Agriculture. These farm wastes probably exceed 260,000,000 tons annually.

Although manufacturers know that these farm wastes contain enough raw materials to supply many of the country's needs, the materials are usually so bulky and the gathering them is so high that they can not compete with other materials. When any are used, the demand takes only a small part of the total supply. Most of the materials are now made from raw materials, such as wood and paper. The department, through its Bureau of Chemistry and Soils and its branches, seeks constantly to cover new, practical uses for waste products. It recently found that a cheap satisfactory cellulose material for rayon, could be obtained from bagasse, a sugar waste.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

We were pleased to see the church filled to capacity last Sunday, when the impressive confirmation service took place. Seven youths made a profession of their Christian Faith in the Triune God and the blessing of the congregation was bestowed upon them with a prayer for their continued faithfulness, and the favor of God. The class then sang a song, "Take Thou My Hand, O Father," followed by the Holy Communion Service.

Based on the text I John 5:4, the pastor laid this Truth upon the hearts of the hearers: "Your Faith is a Victory." He admonished the class especially to fight the good fight of faith and remain loyal to, and honor the Savior, the Captain of their souls. Certain victory over the enemy would reward such faithfulness even to the end of life. The renditions by the choir helped to enhance the beauty of the service.

The confirmation class presented a memorial gift to the church consisting of an altar desk and altar candles which were used in the service Sunday. Those who were confirmed are: Antoinette Stiegler, Thelma Schlenz, Anna Lee Webb, Charles Hartung, Harold Jack Hartung, Hugo Schweers and Edward Breiten.

The service next Sunday will be held in the German language beginning at 10:30 o'clock. The Sunday School and Bible Class will meet at 9:15. A new Bible Class has been established including the members who were newly confirmed. Mrs. Leibfarth has this class in charge.

The service at night will be held in the English language and will begin at 8 o'clock.

Republican readers—and there are many of them—of this rag of rock-ribbed Democracy will find on the third page the official call of their party for precinct and county conventions. On account of the size of the Republican vote for Governor two years ago the party is not required to hold a primary election, hence the party business will be attended to in the convention.

5 reasons for having a telephone

- 1 "They're opening the plant again? ... sure I'll be there!"
- 2 "Why yes, I found your keys on the dresser."
- 3 "The train is 40 minutes late ... I'll wait for them."
- 4 "Please change my appointment to Friday."
- 5 "Please hurry, doctor. We're worried about him."

THE situations above suggest the countless ways a telephone saves time and worry ... ways in which it makes life easier and more enjoyable. If you haven't a telephone, we believe you're missing a lot of satisfaction, to say the least. And emergencies do come. At such times a single telephone call may be priceless.

For only a few cents a day, you can have a telephone of your own. No more trips to the neighbors, or the corner store. Call the telephone business office.

The Anvil Herald office was favored this morning by a call from three young friends, sons of three old friends, of the LaCoste community. They were Henry Zinsmeyer, son of Emil Zinsmeyer, lately deceased (a mention of whose death appears elsewhere in this paper); Henry Echtle, son of George Echtle; and Ernest Echtle, son of Paul Echtle. The young men, following in the footsteps of their dads, are all successful farmers of that favored section where corn and oats grow in great abundance, given half a chance by favorable seasons.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED.

On Thursday, July 7th, a miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Mrs. Lee Wernette in honor of her sister, Miss Pauline Krenmueller, a bride of the month.

On entering, the guests were requested to register in the bride's book. About fifty-two guests registered. After the guests were seated the honoree, gowned in lovely yellow flat crepe, was led to the chair of honor by little Miss Nester, daughter of Mrs. Emmitt Nester. The chair which was decorated in yellow and white, made a pretty scene underneath a parol of the same color. From the ceiling white streamers led to the gifts at the foot of the chair.

After the honoree was seated, a shower of rice fell from a funnel which was opened by pulling a string. The funnel was concealed within the streamers at the ceiling. Then the following toast was read by Miss Lela Neumann:

TO THE BRIDE, OUR HONORED PAULINE, HEAR YE: Should you ask me whence this gathering? Whence this gathering and assemblage,

With the breezes of the summer, With the whisper of the leaflets, With the habitual song of locusts, With the renewed flow of rivers, With their rolling beds of pebbles, And their wild reverberations, Of their rippling, leaping waters? I shall answer, I shall tell you, I shall answer your inquiries, Straightway in such words as follows: From the hills and vales of Dunlay, From the sunny hillside yonder, From the land of the laborious, From the renowned house of Bendele, Came a youth so tall and stately, Came he listless, longing, hoping, Came he to the house consoling, Sought and won he the heart of Pauline.

Then from out the halls of Wernette, By the banks of river Hondo, Came a message of a shower, Of a shower with gifted raindrops, This the seventh day of the month, Of the year of two and thirty. Forth came we to bring our treasures, Treasures fit for one so lovely, Hoping, wishing, to bring joy, To the one we love so dearly. So take our gifts, O modest maiden, Take them and our hearts go with them.

Go ye to thy fixed dwelling, Make you there a home that's wanted, Be the starlight, moonlight, firelight, Be the sunlight of thy partner. (With Apologies to Longfellow.)

The gifts were then handed to the honoree by little Miss Nester. After the packages were opened and inspected the honoree expressed her thanks. Then refreshments consisting of home-made ice cream, angel food cake and cookies were served to the guests. Mrs. Wernette was assisted in serving by Mrs. Armin Bendele, Misses Ethel and Thelma Bendele, Marcella and Adeline Krenmueller.

C. V. TERRELL
OF WISE COUNTY
Candidate for His Second Full Term as Railroad Commissioner

Mr. Terrell is asking for a second full term on his record, which is in part as follows:

During his term of office, the Commission has turned back into the General Revenue Fund more than $500,000.00.

They have tried more than fifteen thousand cases, with only four reversals, a record unsurpassed by any similar body in the United States.

Mr. Terrell was the first state official to use the half time job plan, thus helping a number of boys and girls through school, who could not have gone otherwise.

He has never indulged in a mud-slinging campaign, believing that "One can never elevate himself by trying to pull the other fellow down."

When Mr. Terrell was elected to his first full term, which he is now serving, he carried 234 of the 256 counties in this great State, which was a large majority over his two honorable opponents.

Only a few of the many things which Mr. Terrell has accomplished can be mentioned, due to the limited space. However, it is believed that his faithful discharge of public duty in the past is the best guarantee of a promise to perform a like service in the future.

TEXAS RAILROADS PAY SUBSTANTIAL PART OF STATE'S TAX BURDEN

● Taxes is one of the large fixed charges connected with the operation of Texas railroads. From the standpoint of the welfare of state, counties and communities, railroad taxes are of much importance. This annual obligation must be met from the earning capacity of the rail carriers.

In 1931 the railroads of Texas paid a total of $8,303,108.47 in federal, state, county, municipal and miscellaneous taxes. The distribution of this amount to the various tax funds is shown below:

	Amount Paid	Per Cent of Total Tax Paid
U. S. Government	$ 61,270.13	.74
State	1,954,435.47	23.54
County	1,146,669.97	13.81
Roads	1,699,764.15	20.47
Improvement Districts	175,606.87	2.12
Schools	1,437,152.74	17.31
Cities	1,792,994.61	21.59
Miscellaneous	35,214.59	.42
Total	$8,303,108.47	100.00

It can thus be seen that railroad taxes represent an important and indispensable factor in the economic life of our state. They help in a large measure to pay the expense of our state, county and municipal government, build and maintain highways, pay the cost of drainage and other improvements, and support our schools and educational institutions.

It is the desire of Texas railroads to extend this helpfulness to Texas counties and communities in carrying this heavy burden. However, their ability to meet these obligations as they become due depends upon their ability to earn sufficient revenue with which to pay this and other heavy expenses connected with their operation.

● RAILROADS HAVE ALWAYS SHOULDERED THEIR SHARE OF RESPONSIBILITIES TO THE NATION, THE STATE, AND THE CITIES AND COMMUNITIES THEY SERVE, AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO TO THE EXTENT OF THEIR ABILITY.

If you are receiving this paper look at the date following your address, turn to the second page and see what a dollar will do, then make your dollar do a renewal stunt. It will make us both happy.

Foreclosures on mortgages and forced tax sales in times like these are deplorable. A reasonable extension will enable many a man to get back on his feet again and avoid becoming a "down and outer".

With some nine candidates in the race for governor the campaign still refuses to grow exciting. Maybe it is only the calm before a stormy finish when Mrs. Ferguson and the Fat Boy get into the final run-off.

Clean cultivation and maintenance of a good soil mulch will keep the cotton plants strong and growing longer than in foul and neglected fields and assure greater yields by enabling the more vigorous plants to retain their forms longer. Look well to the tillage in these dry times.

Failure of the corn crop on many Texas farms makes it important that a crop of June corn or fall grain sorghum be grown. While prospects are unfavorable for a profitable price for the grain if thrown on the market it may prove valuable insurance against grain and feed shortage on the farm.

Before this paper has reached its readers, the action of the Democratic convention at Chicago will be known to all. At this writing it can only be hoped that they improved upon the opportunity to wrest the government from the floundering misrule of the last three years and restore it to rule by the people.

A fly in the ointment of the Federal Farm Seed loan scheme is that the farmers took so little of the $50,000,000.00 offered as to leave a sufficient surplus to prompt those having the disbursement of it to seek other schemes for lending it on longer time and thus prolong their jobs at the expense of the taxpayers.

Forage of all kinds—including the much neglected cornfodder—if harvested and saved will cost little to preserve as insurance against shortage of feed and pasture grass in the event of protracted drought, and if never needed would entail but little loss of money, time or labor. Allowed to waste in the field all is lost—even the satisfaction of protection against possible need.

Our old Waco friend, Fred B. Robinson, is a candidate for Floterial Representative in his district. We wish we could do something to assure his election, for his announcement breathes an atmosphere of Democracy as refreshing to one's spirits as the breezes of spring to the flowers. For instance, he says: "By way of concrete explanation of my position with regard to reducing taxes, instead of dealing in generalities, will say that, according to former State Treasurer Hatcher, salary increases were made in the Fortieth legislature, to the amount of $10,000,000. There has been little, if any, improvement in the public service, by reason of said raises; therefore, I would favor restoring these salaries to the former amounts. Then by readjusting other salaries and combining, or abolishing useless positions, another $10,000,000, there could be substantial reduction in taxes. Mere talk will never accomplish anything."

BEHOLD THE PLIGHT OF THE AMERICAN FARMER.

In our cartoon on this page, Mr. Knott, the artist, depicts in a most graphic manner the pitiable plight of the American farmer.

With all kinds of governmental schemes, many already discarded as useless, all more or less discredited, and all so far futile insofar as affording substantial relief, littering the soil about his feet, like so much neglected rubbish in an abandoned stubble field, he stands mute and helpless because his "buying power" is exhausted.

His "buying power" is exhausted and the varied schemes for his relief—however well-meant—are futile because they do not touch the causes of his exhausted "buying power" nor offer a rational remedy for it.

Denied free access to the markets of the world and the right of equal exchange of his products for the products of other peoples by the operations of discriminating tariffs that at the same time compel him to pay tribute in needlessly high prices to the government protected manufacturers at home, his "buying power" is unduly and unjustly sapped at both ends.

Robbed mercilessly by excessive freight rates and dealers' profits on the way from his farm to the consumer, his "buying power" gets another deep cut right in "the house of his friends"—his home market.

The victim of an unwise and unjust monetary system that farms the government's power and duty to issue money out to favored interests, his "buying power" is again sapped by excessive and unjust interest charges.

And because he is the chief producer of wealth, and because only the producer of something useful where it did not exist before can pay any thing in the final analysis, the burden of all taxes, from the smallest municipality to the Federal government with its staggering billions of tax levies, is passed back ultimately to the shoulders of the producers, he is the payer of the bulk of the country's taxes.

Is there any wonder that he, the victim of such injustices, for which no remedy is offered and from whose manacled chains he must be loosed before "buying power" can be restored to him, finds himself helpless in the midst of ill-starred schemes for his "relief"?

Behold the plight of the American farmer!

Then, if not incapable of reading the "handwriting on the wall", be-think yourself that "relief" must come and come through a restoration to him of the rights of which he is unjustly deprived, or sooner or later the temple of our whole economic structure must fall in the destruction of this shorn Samson!

It is now intimated on what seems plausible grounds that the hullabaloo about balancing the budget was not so much to maintain the credit of the nation as it was to afford Morgan, et al, assurance that sufficient money would be wrung from the taxpayers to make sure the vast sums of interest due them on the government bonds held by them tax free and which will be paid by the rest of us. This is a great government—for the pets of special privilege.

Among the thirty-odd candidates for Congressman at large there are several more personal friends for whom we would like to vote than just the three we will be permitted to vote for.

TIMELY ADMONITION.

Fletcher's Farming, published at Hondo, finds as follows:

Don't sacrifice your live stock now just because stock farming does not pay. To be sure an over-supply is worse than not enough and there is economy in sacrificing the surplus, but the man who holds on to his best animals, sufficient to form a nucleus for getting back in the game strong when the cycle of low prices changes, will come out ahead in the long run. If the pilot forsook the helm because the sea was rough, few ships would come home!

The above is certainly good advice, and should be pondered over by farmers all over Texas. The darkest hour is said to be always just before the dawn, so the farmer who is prepared to take up extensive farm work again, when times get back to normal, will certainly come out ahead in the long run. Sit steady in the boat, and remember the last paragraph in the above, specially!—Fred B. Robinson in Waco News-Tribune.

WILL MARVELS EVER CEASE?

In the hectic days of 1917, when the European investments of America's international bankers were about to be shot into scraps of paper by Germany's military superiority over that of her enemies, we marveled at the subservency of a Congress and a President that would yield to their power and dictation to the extent of violating the very essence of our constitutional guarantees and conscript free Americans to wage a war of aggression on foreign soil and die to make the world safe for the investments of millionaires.

Time passes. And in these hectic days of "Hoover prosperity", we are called upon again to marvel.

This time that a Congress and a President, subserviently and obediently yielding to pressure from this same source of power, levy unconscionable taxes on already overburdened taxpayers to provide funds for salvaging the frozen assets of these same bankers while it refuses to reach out its credit to meet an acknowledged debt owed to these same soldier boys of '17, and in violation of every decent regard for gratitude or humane considerations for suffering want, tells them, in effect, to go and starve.

We wonder at what we shall marvel next!

Having, over the period of the last three years, cornered practically all of the country's circulating medium through forced collection of loans—a la the Missouri-Pacific loan—and refusal of extensions or the making of new loans, the big banks of New York are now taking this money thus wrung from the people and are buying up all the non-taxable bonds they can get at a discount that must be sacrificed by people in financial distress. And to add insult to injury they have the effrontery to call this feathering of their own financial nests an unselfish movement to restore confidence!

This month will see the result of the first Democratic primary in Texas on July 23rd. It is to be hoped that out of the multiplicity of candidates the best ones will win.

L. A. SEYMOUR FOR COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

At a somewhat belated hour, our friend, L. A. Seymour, announces for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture.

If every voter in Texas knew him as does this writer—who has worked with him shoulder to shoulder and communed with him in that confidence that comes only to men who rest and play together after labor—personal considerations alone would sweep him into the office to which he aspires.

Not because we regard him so highly personally but because, knowing him as we do, we know him to be sound in governmental principles and honest and dependable in all he undertakes to do, we recommend him to our readers as fully meriting their confidence and worthy of their votes for the office to which he aspires.

You will make no mistake if you so trust and honor him.

He Seems to Have Everything Except The Price

STORM BATTLE.

By Anton Romatka.

The Summer day, a cauldron, brewing heat,
Attempts in vain to melt the sun's hot eye;
Such heat may boil, and roast or mummify
All sweating Life beneath his burning sheet—
The elemental fighting armies meet:
The lurid twisted battle flees fly
As Rain and Darkness fetter Earth and Sky,
While Storm and Thunder roar and stamp
their feet—

The giant trees still sway on sated roots
And dance before the wind's wet minor flutes;
Then while each weary cloud dries out her sail
And light returns once more, though dim and pale,
The dying Thunder Demon's blood and gall
Stains reeking Heaven's rusty iron wall.

MID-SUMMER

By Emma Allen Bailey

Mid-summer rests beside the listless stream;
Languidly she seeks the shade,
Where in seclusion she may sweetly dream
Of rapturous love 'twixt man and maid!

A REAL FRIEND.

By Jeanette Nourland.

We own a grand old Pointer,
Who is homely, as dogs go.
With the many breeds we know.
But for brains and blind devotion,
And a loyal, loving heart—
You'd hunt for his superior
Through many a canine mart.

No matter what our mood may be,
He is always standing by
In loving, understanding pose—
Devotion in his eye.
For friends whose loyalty we prize,
In weather foul or fine;
I'll pass the changing bipeds up—
And choose the dog for mine.

KEEP A STEADFAST SOUL.

By Fletcher Davis.

Though weak and spent, he ne'er is down and out
Who keeps a steady head and heart that's stout,
And fights and battles on and on without
Faltering at misfortune's toll.

For through the trials of life's darkest hour
Will surely come to you supremest power
That never will in danger cringe or cower
But win life's fair and cherished goal.

From out the fire comes forth the molten gold;
Out of trials a strengthened spirit bold;
So whatever fires fate for you may hold,
Keep thou a staunch and steadfast soul!

FLOWERS.

By Louis Miller Andrews.

There are lessons in the lives of flowers:
Profundly simple, the messages they bear;
Unfolding thru golden and thru ebony hours,
From seeds in earth to fragrant blooms in air.

The lily, pansy, lotus and rose—
All flowers symbolize the Light;
And, when one seeks, in time one knows
Their meanings, through the inner sight.

Flower-children of mother earth—
Common blossom and bloom most rare—
Hold secrets of exceeding worth:
Arcana which flower-lovers share.

ETERNITY.

By James Neill Northe.

Moving graves
The blue green waves,
The day is misty gray;

Broken theme
As in a dream,
Plays on the rocks all day.

Darkness falls,
The sea still calls
In same relentless way.

HOME AND FRIENDSHIP.

By Stella V. Jones.

Home is not home without a garden,
Edged with flowers around to make it glow.
Home is not home without a mother,
Teaching the little ones who come and go.

Friends are not friends who in their passing
Have never found the time to stop a-while.
True friends who make a friendship lasting
Must take the time to weep with us and smile.

THE OLD LONE TREE.

By Olive Scott Stainsby.

Upon a hill, majestic, tall and proud,
Where loving eyes for miles around could see,
There was a land-mark dear to many hearts,
Throughout the country known as Old Lone Tree.

It was a mighty king of trees, and men
In reverence bowed their heads beneath its shade.
By right of age it proudly stood supreme,
As when the Settler's Colony first was made.

This sturdy tree, unbending, had withstood
The tempests, wind and sleet, and bitter storm,
It grew more glorious with the passing years,
That shaped it into more majestic form.

But one sad day the old tree's doom was sealed;
A highway must come through—It must come down—
"Progress", the slogan of the people then,
A highway would bring commerce to the town.

So now the tree of yesterday is gone;
A sacrifice to modern, rushing ways.
I wonder which the better part for men—
Swift roads, or landmarks of the olden days.

MY DOGS.

By N. H. Dunning.

I reckon these dogs with my loyalest friends;
Yet they're sometimes a problem, I'll say.
When I'm home after absence they welcome me back
In an almost too frolicsome way—
"Sh! Sh!"
In an almost too frolicsome way.

And when dog counters dog at mealtime—
dear, dear!
My Laddy knows just what to do,
For Bob shows him quickly who's boss on the job
If there's only one bone 'twixt the two,
"Sh! Sh!"
If there's only one bone 'twixt the two!

THE VACATIONIST.

By Jessica Morehead Young.

The Summer Resorter
In brown khaki suit,
With a jaunty bright cap
And long black cheroot,
Beneath the swishing trees
Upon a blanket lies.
He is still quite at ease,
Disregarding the fleas;
But like dew it won't last,
For conditions will change.
Comes a big bumble bee,
And he thinks it is strange,
Then he lights on the man,
In a summer-like pose—
Oh!—Good gracious, the man
Ran away from his clothes!

AS A SUNFLOWER.

By M. Rose Akin.

As a sunflower, poised to unfold,
Let my life and influence be—
Wide-spread as its petals like gold—
A source of radiant light.

As a sunflower, O, my Soul;
Let me steadfast, beautiful be,
With simplest grace fulfill the role
Of health bestowing strength.

As a sunflower, O, my Soul
Let me emblematic be
The Sun of Righteousness my goal,
Forever turn toward Him!

THE MISSES MITTEN
By Fannie Hurst

(By McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

THE Misses Mitten kept one of those neighborhood notion stores that are a panacea for housewives. There, at around-the-corner distance, were needles for that emergency, tape, red-and-white checked gingham to fit a last-minute determination to make kitchen curtains, rubber teething-rings, baby-ribbons and sewing-silks that matched.

Even in the heart of an enormous city, with an elevated railroad banging past its door and the roar of traffic on four sides, the notion store of the Misses Mitten had managed to become a sort of neighborhood rendezvous. People from the tall surrounding apartment houses, little housekeepers, men whose business brought them home at three o'clock in the afternoon, the youth of the block, had formed the habit of dropping in for a few moments' chat with the Misses Mitten.

They were precisely what you would suppose them to be from the nature of the calling and from the name itself. Mitten. Neat-mouthed, neat-minded, neat-bodied little persons who had grown up in the neighborhood, who had inherited the business from their parents and whose faces were stamped with a starved kind of virginity.

Minna was forty and Bella was forty-two and, as is almost inevitably the case in such relationships, the younger, although even slightly so, had kept the duffer. Minna was like a little kitten. She had a high, incessant little laugh like a small bell ringing. Her pale hair had fuzzy ends and she had the innocent ways of a little girl—she was given to clapping her hands in surprise or tilting her head askance or pouting prettily if crossed.

Bella, who was heavier set and whose brown hair did not friz, had inevitably taken on a maternal attitude toward this kitten sister. She babbled her worried about droughts and diet and her habit of wearing too light clothing in the winter. They were sweet together and a nice example of sisters managing to live harmoniously.

Of course—do not mistake it—there was nothing particularly exhilarating about the lives they lived. Indeed, there had been a time when such a state of nervous depression had settled upon Minna, that Bella, sick with dread, had feared for her sanity. The routine, the dullness, the lack of social opportunity and diversion had done it. Bella herself, when much younger, had passed through the same troubled waters. Their youth had been a shut-up, starveling youth, without any of the gayeties natural to it.

Bella had fought through alone. Minna had fought through to the understanding ministrings of her older sister.

All that was past now. The Misses Mitten, ostensibly at least, had become resigned to the fact that there are gray moths and emperor moths in the scheme of things, and that their role apparently was gray.

And just about this time, there came into the life of Bella, the elder, a good-natured, good-humored, middle-aged bachelor, a retired stock broker who lived in the neighborhood and who liked to while away idle moments in the notion store. With what incredulity these two sisters met the situation is past the telling. Here was something so unforeseen, so outside the pale of hope, so fantastic in its possibilities, that the Misses Mitten, between the two of them, could scarcely scarce up the realization to take it in.

Romance was leaning a shy, half-reluctant head into the narrow little world of the Mittens.

The kind of life that had passed by these two sisters with never a glance in their direction was slowing as it flowed by their stoop.

It was nothing short of breath-taking to have the shop door pop open and a florist's boy, carrying a square corsage box, or a long one with the end cut out for still longer rose stems, burst in with the words, "Miss Bella Mitten?" on his lips.

Flowers for a Mitten!

Then, too, the new excitements. Concert tickets (three) for Sunday in the Stadium. A two-pound box of nut-filled chocolates every Wednesday night. One Saturday afternoon while Minna remained in the store, Bella and Dodge went shopping. Shopping, mind you, for a black fox neck scarf which Dodge had seen in a shop window on Madison Avenue and was determined to see around the neck of Bella in order that he might decide if it became her. That was to be his birthday gift.

A Mitten receiving a fur scarf birthday gift from an admirer!

Small wonder that a new excitement purred through that menage. Small wonder that two timid, mouse-brown women, inured to routine and petty pastimes, suddenly found themselves rushing about on feet that ached.

There was an air, in the tiny household, of some one always about to catch a train. Every opening of the shop door, or ring of the bell, was the occasion for a start or a jump. Every minute held its potential thrill. Its potential heartache.

Bella knew that, and sometimes a fear settled on her, chilling and threatening her. Was her happiness about to cast tragedy over the life of her sister? Well Bella knew the old familiar situation. Two women, grown as they had grown, into middle years, dependent upon each other in a hundred ways. Afraid even to contemplate a life which did not contain the old regime. Women who had missed somehow, the love of men, and who clung to the mutual solace of each other.

Bella knew the dangers that lurked for Minna, and she knew, too, the dangers that lurked for herself. Mistaken renunciation. Futility of sacrifice under certain conditions. It took courage to realize that. Sometimes there crept into Bella's heart the impulse to cast aside this impending opportunity for happiness, and let her destiny flow along with her sister's. But most of the time Bella kept her courage in hand. Why wreck her own chance of happiness and possibly Myron Dodge's when she was not even sure of achieving happiness by such a renunciation, for Minna?

And so when Myron Dodge, fifty, hale, hearty, wholesome and astonishingly well-to-do, actually proposed marriage to Bella Mitten across a counter where, for twenty years, she had dispensed needles, spool-thread, invisible hairpins and huck towelling, a heart-burting situation was created.

There enters the familiar complication of an older sister impelled to renunciate, in the name of the younger. And it must be said that Minna, perhaps because she was frailer, fought off, if not in actual words, then with the terror of her manner, this marriage of her sister's. Minna was frightened, desolated, panic-stricken. It seemed impossible that she could go in a world that contained Bella, married.

And the marvel of it is that Bella did not make the stupid sacrifice in the name of sisterly love. After a struggle, it is true, a long heart-breaking one, and with Minna's unspoken attitude making it all the more difficult, Bella decided that the really generous act toward her sister and herself, to say nothing of the man she loved, was to marry Myron Dodge.

It meant heartache, it meant heart-hurt, it meant a residuum of fear and pity in the heart of Bella even as she stood a bride. But deep within her persisted the instinct that not to have married Myron Dodge would have been one of those purposeless, sentimental sacrifices which in the end only embitter all concerned.

If there had ever lurked in Bella any fear that Myron might not rise to the occasion of treating his sister-in-law with the pampered indulgence to which she was accustomed, that fear was quickly dispelled.

For the first two years of their marriage, the Myron Dodes traveled abroad, accompanied every inch of the way by the smaller and frailer Minna. And if she had been indulged by Bella, before this marriage, twice that kindness, twice that forbearance was expended in her behalf by Myron. It was his way of paying Bella a tribute he knew would mean most to her.

The three of them finally decided to settle down in a lovely old Sussex cottage in England for a year or so. Life is pleasant there. Almost unbelievably so. Tranquil. Full of beauty and happiness.

Bella never has any regrets over her wisdom in not making the sacrifice in behalf of her sister. Indeed, on the contrary, she often figures pleasantly to herself that, if she had not had the strength to ignore her scruples and make this marriage, Minna, from the fastnesses of the little notion store, would never have met up with Cleveland Aley.

Cleveland Aley is a prosperous squire in Sussex whose attentions to Minna are becoming more and more marked.

SYLVIA SIDNEY SEEN IN LEADING FEMININE ROLE.

Sylvia Sidney, the New York-born and raised actress who distinguished herself in films so auspiciously in "An American Tragedy" and "Ladies of the Big House," comes to the Colonial Theatre in her newest part, that of the confidence crook's girl friend in "The Miracle Man," on Friday and Saturday.

This is the part which brought immortal fame to Betty Compson in the original silent screen version of the same play in 1919. In that production, Thomas Meighan was the smooth crook, and Lon Chaney was "The Frog"—a fake paralytic.

In the new, modernized version with Miss Sidney, Chester Morris is the crook, and John Wray is the fakir.

Others in the cast are Irving Pichel, Robert Coogan, Virginia Bruce, Lloyd Hughes, and Hobart Cavanaugh.

That retail distribution in Texas is much wider than in most of the States is shown by a Department of Commerce bulletin. In twelve States more than half the entire retail trade is done in one or two counties. In twenty-four others one or two counties handle from 25 to 50 per cent of the State's total. Texas, which is in the remaining twelve, has one county handling 9.5 per cent and another 9.1 per cent (Harris and Dallas), as compared with Baltimore's 65.2 per cent, Providence's (R. I.) 83.3 per cent and Chicago's 63.5 per cent of the State totals.

LA COSTE LEDGERETTES
From The LaCoste Ledger.

EMIL ZINSMEYER.

Mr. Emil Zinsmeyer, a highly respected and beloved citizen of this community, quietly passed away at his home here Sunday evening, July 3rd, 1932, at 9 o'clock, well fortified with the last Sacraments of the Catholic Church of which he was a life long member.

Mr. Zinsmeyer was born at Castroville, Texas, Medina County, July 25th, 1865, having attained the age of 68 years, 11 months, and 8 days at the time of his untimely death.

On January 12, 1891, he was happily married to Miss Mary Magdelin Echtle at Castroville. To this happy union nine children were born of whom eight survive, one son having died in infancy.

Mr. Zinsmeyer became ill about six months ago, and went to San Antonio where he underwent treatment at the Mrs. Otto Zinsmeyer Private Home Hospital for five weeks after which he returned home feeling fine, only to be again affected by the same illness after a short time. During his entire illness he was only confined to his bed for about two months.

Mr. Zinsmeyer had made his home near LaCoste for the last forty years. He was one of the organizers of the St. George Society of this parish of which Society he was still a member. He was also a member of the St. Louis Society of Castroville, Texas.

Besides his grief-stricken widow, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Henry W. Keller, Mrs. Henry Meehler and Mrs. Emil Mueller of LaCoste, and five sons, Richard, Henry, George and William of LaCoste and Frank of Riomedina. He is also survived by two brothers, Chas. Zinsmeyer of LaCoste and Joseph Zinsmeyer of San Antonio, by an aunt, Mrs. Mary Zinsmeyer of San Antonio, who will be ninety years old, and by twenty-one grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the residence near LaCoste, Tuesday morning, July 5th, 1932, at 8:30 A. M., followed by a Requiem High Mass at St. Mary's Church, LaCoste, with Rev. Joseph Schweller officiating. After services at the Church the body was conveyed to the St. Mary's Cemetery, followed by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends, where under the direction of Henger Undertaking Co. of Hondo, it was lowered to its last resting place.

Pall-bearers were all nephews of the deceased, namely: Robert Halty, Henry Weynand, Adolph and Leo Zinsmeyer, and Henry and Ernest Echtle.

Honorary Pall-bearers were Louis Lessing, Frank Keller, Joseph Hutzler, Louis Mangold, Benj. Kempf and Albert Biediger, members of the St. George and St. Louis Societies respectively.

The entire community sincerely sympathizes with the heartbroken and bereaved widow and children in this their hour of sorrow. May the good Heavenly Father comfort them all in their bereavement. May he rest in peace.

J. returned home Monday, encountering difficult travel on account of high water, forcing him to make a long detour via New Braunfels.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Hawks with their son and daughter, Charles and Ellen, spent a pleasant Fourth of July time with Mr. Hawkes' parents here. They returned to Flatonia Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Biediger were visiting relatives in San Antonio Sunday. They were accompanied home by W. A. Luckenbach, Jr., from Seguin who will visit here several days.

Mr. August Marion, after a pleasant time spent with his niece, Mrs. C. L. Austin at LaFeria, went through West to Grope with the country at points between Spofford and El Paso.

Misses Theika, Lorine and Elrine Stolte and Lillian Mangold, Messrs. Arthur and Herbert Wurzbach, Milton Stolte and Archie Mangold took a pleasure trip to Medina Lake Sunday. Upon their return they spent a few pleasant hours at the Stolte home at Cliff.

After a pleasant visit with home-folks here Mr. and Mrs. Fern S. Dunn and daughter, Mary Lois, returned to their home at Bay City. They were accompanied by Mrs. Dunn's nephew, J. D. Herzing, Jr., of Kirby, who will visit with them for awhile.

Frank Zinsmeyer from Riomedina was a visitor here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keller and daughter, Miss Octavia, were San Antonio visitors Thursday. Mr. Keller remained for a week's treatment at the Santa Rosa Infirmary.

Mrs. D. R. Bippert and son, Clarence, and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Bippert and son, Vernor, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ahr and daughter in San Antonio Wednesday and Rev. and Mrs. W. Kralik of Round Top, who were visiting with them.

QUIHI NOTES.

"It is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve." Matt. 4, 10.

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock the Bethlehem Lutheran Sunday School and Bible Class begin. A cordial invitation to come to this service is extended to all.

Divine service will be held in Bethlehem Lutheran church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. All members, friends and neighbors are cordially invited to this and all services in this church.

At 8 o'clock P. M. a splendid Luther League program will be rendered in Bethlehem Lutheran church. All musical and literary numbers of this program have been carefully selected in the intention of entertaining and profiting all hearers. All are cordially invited to come with their friends and neighbors and all that this program offers.

Last Thursday the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton L. Heiligman received the sacrament of holy baptism in Bethlehem Lutheran church. The little man received the name of Raymond Charles. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lindeburg were witness of the sacred ceremony.

A PLEA FOR THE HORSE.

Horses must be coming back, as all indications point to same. The last issue of Fletcher's Farming, published at Hondo, has a frontispiece of horses, under which appears the following:

Every horse will work better and longer if given three ample meals daily; plenty of pure water, proper shoes, sharpened in slippery weather; a blanket in cold weather, a stall 6 x 9, or enough room to lie down; a fly net in summer, two weeks' vacation each year. Do not use the cruel, tight check-rein, or closely fitting blinders, which cause blindness. Spare the whip.

The above is certainly timely advice, especially as there will always be some horses to work, despite this motor age. We are sure Miss Kate Friend, who is ever active with the Waco Humane society, will specially endorse the above. Although the auto has almost put Miss Friend's efforts in the above direction almost out of business, still, with the tax ever increasing on gasoline, the horses may again become as numerous as of yore.—Fred B. Robinson in Waco News-Tribune.

DR. MILES' NERVINE
"Did the work" says Miss Glivar WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles' Nerve which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.

If you suffer from "Nerves." If you lie awake nights, start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.

Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.

Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.

CASTROVILLE CULLINGS.

Castroville, July 13, 1932.

ALFRED HABY.

The sad news reached this little city Thursday evening of the death of Mr. Alfred Haby, which occurred at 6:15 P. M. Thursday, July 7, at the Medina Hospital in Hondo, where he had been a patient for about ten days with an infected foot. The deceased was only 49 years, 8 months and 26 days of age at the time of his death. On June 28, 1916, he was happily married to Miss Lydia Schott, who with two children, a son and daughter, survives him. He is also survived by three brothers, Edmund Haby of Dunlay, Jack Haby of Leaky, and August Haby of Vanderpool, and two sisters, Mrs. Nic Haby of Riomedina and Mrs. Henry Jungman of Maedona, and many other relatives and friends who mourn his untimely passing.

Funeral services were held at 9:30 A. M. July 9th at St. Louis Catholic Church, with Rev. Jacob Lenzen officiating. Interment was made in St. Louis Cemetery.

This paper extends deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Misses Velma King and Josephine Brucks and Messrs. Buster Rath, Roy Grant and Ralph de Montel of Hondo were in Castroville Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Hans were San Antonio visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schott and family visited Devine one day last week.

Mrs. R. L. FitzSimon and children are spending a vacation here for a few weeks.

Rev. Laurence FitzSimon visited here a few days last week.

Herbert Tondre was a San Antonio visitor Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Suehs went on a vacation for a few days at Eagle Pass.

Miss Adele Mechler and Mr. V. Hill visited friends here Monday night.

Mrs. Emil Birr, Mrs. Chas. Suehs and children were San Antonio visitors Thursday.

Mrs. B. FitzSimon and children, Miss Adele Mechler, A. J. Koch of Hondo and James FitzSimon were San Antonio business visitors Thursday.

Rev. J. Lenzen and Mr. J. T. Lawler were in San Antonio on business Wednesday.

TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY.

A matrimonial record has been set by Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Huegele, 3113 West Travis street, San Antonio, 82 and 80 years old respectively, who will observe their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary July 28.

The aged pair live alone and are able-bodied and active, taking a normal youthful interest in church, civic and social affairs with which they are connected. They resided alone on a ranch near Uvalde until six years ago. They reared a family of nine children. They have many grandchildren and "a few" great grandchildren, but could not tell how many.

The Huegeles were married in 1874 at Castroville. Both belonged to pioneer colonization families. Both have lived active, rather strenuous lives, but the outdoors was all about them and they partly attribute their longevity to that.—San Antonio Light.

BAPTIST NEWS NOTES.

The services at the Baptist church are being held as usual, every Sunday. The Bible school begins at 10 A. M. We are studying in the wonderful life of Moses, the law-giver. You will do well to participate in these studies. Every man, not already attending Sunday School, is hereby invited to join the Pastors' class. All others, not connected with some other school is invited to join our School. Thus, you will be making progress along right and safe lines. At the morning hour, eleven o'clock the Pastor will discuss the important subject of "Being Ready". Unpreparedness is one of man's chief weaknesses. Better come and hear this discussion. It will be on a high plane. The regular service at night, on the cool lawn of the church. Come. Leave your coats at home, my men. No use to suffer from the heat. Better avoid the "heat" hereafter. Our young peoples meeting, during the week will be held as usual.

This Man Had Faith Lost 24 Pounds

"Last November I weighed 192 lbs. Today, (February 5th, 1932) I am down to 168 lbs. and full of pep all day long—since using Kruschen I have not had to use the laxative that was customary."—Theo. A. C. LaFleur, Providence, R. I.

What do you think of this—you men who doubt—you stay fat—because you want to think that nature made you that way.

You're all wrong—most fat men were made fat because of their inability to handle a knife and fork in a business like manner.

Be frank with yourself. Are you too timid to take a safe, harmless conditioner that not only takes off surplus fat but is so helpful that it makes you feel years younger?

To reduce safely take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets. Kruschen is sold by druggists the world over. A jar that costs but a trifle will last four weeks—but be sure you get Kruschen—your health comes first.

DEAD.

Mr. M. H. Grunewald was suddenly stricken and passed away while standing in the yard at his home in Lancaster, California, while talking to his son, Charlie Grunewald, and his son-in-law, S. H. Bailey. Mr. Grunewald seemed to be in good health and was planning to make a trip to Texas. They were to leave Lancaster on July 11th. His death came as a great shock to his family and his many friends who are saddened by his sudden death July 4th at 10:30 A. M. He was born September 8, 1854, in Goliad County, Texas. He was well known in Medina County. He came to New Fountain, Texas, when just a young man 19 years of age and lived there for many years. Many of the old timers will remember him as he was always jolly and willing to help where he could, and he was that way until death took him from this earth. March 22, 1879, he was married to Miss Katie J. Saathoff in New Fountain, Texas. In September 1917 Mr. Grunewald and family left Texas and went to Arizona to be with his sons before they entered the world war. A year later they moved to California where they have lived since. Three years ago they celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary with all the children and a few Texas friends present. He was a member of the Methodist Church. Surviving are his wife; five sons, Henry W. of Hondo, Texas, J. F., Fred C., H. V. and C. M., and two daughters, Mrs. Annie L. Stanard and Mrs. Mary E. Bailey, all of California, and ten grandchildren, and a host of friends to mourn his death. Funeral services were held at 3:30 Friday and burial was in Lancaster Cemetery beside his son, William, who passed away June 25, 1931.

This paper extends heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family and friends.

REV. G. LANGNER OF KNIPPA HONORED.

Rev. G. Langner, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran Church at Knippa, received the surprise of his life Sunday night when he came to his church to organize a Luther League. During previous several weeks the members of that congregation, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, determined to celebrate Rev. Langner's 20th anniversary of his assumption of the pastorate of Emmanuel's Lutheran Church, which occurred July 1st, 1912. Accordingly a suitable program was arranged to be carried out last Sunday night. When the reverend gentleman reached the church the bell was rung and vestrymen Kramer and Bazen received him at the church door and led him to a chair before the altar at which the Revs. C. P. Hasskari of Quilhi, K. Konzack of Castroville and W. Leibfarth of Hondo stood in their clerical robes. Rev. Hasskari presided, Rev. Konzack made a German and Rev. Leibfarth an English address, the church choir rendered several fine anthems and Mr. Kramer, secretary of the congregation, speaking for the congregation made a fine talk and presented Rev. Langner a well-filled purse and several mementos of the occasion. After the church service the whole congregation and many friends repaired to the parsonage where a splendid lunch was served and a lot of sociability enjoyed by all present. Rev. Langner has lived and labored 20 years at Knippa and has built up a strong and very intelligent congregation. By his faithful service to his church, as well as to the Knippa community he has endeared himself to the whole citizenship of Knippa and merit and also enjoys the love and esteem of all. May Providence bless and keep him for many years to come and prosper the labors of his hand.

Rev. C. P. HASSKARL.

AN ACTIVE EFFICIENT REPRESENTATIVE.

Hon. A. P. Johnson of Carrizo Springs, Texas, is a member of the 42nd Legislature, and for the good of all taxpayers in Texas, he should be a member of the 43rd Legislature.

Mr. Johnson has the correct conception of the needed changes in our delinquent tax laws, and is aggressive and untiring in his efforts to have a simple, workable law placed upon the statutes, which will mean so much to the people of Texas. He is an able attorney and has fully safeguarded all the rights of the property owner, better, in fact, than they are under the present law, and his proposed bill makes a tax sale much more inexpensive to the property owner.

The Tax Journal is in accord with this idea and stands ready to assist Mr. Johnson in his simplification of the delinquent tax laws of this state and in making them far less expensive to the delinquent tax payers. Mr. Johnson protects the sacred principles in this country—that all persons are entitled to their day in court and all legal defenses. His proposed bill gives every taxpayer this protection to the limit. It also gives to delinquent tax payers freedom from paying exorbitant and useless fees.

Texas Tax Journal, Austin, Texas, March 1932.

HONDO LAND CO.

County Chairman W. N. Saathoff announces the receipt of $150.00 from the Red Cross to aid the destitute of D'Hanis and other communities in need. A carload of flour has been promised the local Red Cross, and is due to arrive here some time this week. The flour will be distributed among the needy of Hondo and vicinity.

The Hondo Lutheran Church Choir entertained with a picnic at Castroville, Wednesday night, July 13th. Swimming, boat riding and games were enjoyed by the younger group while their elders enjoyed conversation and watching the swimmers. Later in the evening a sumptuous basket supper was spread on tables underneath the pecan trees and enjoyed by the forty or more guests present.

Mrs. A. M. Lamm, aged and respected resident of Hondo, is very ill at her home here. As she is unable to take nourishment of any kind and is very feeble from a lengthy indisposition following a fall, coupled with her advanced age, it is feared for her life. The ladies of the Eastern Star, of which Mrs. Lamm has been a member, are at her bedside ever ready to minister to her Sister in her illness.

Judge and Mrs. Ed de Montel were delightfully surprised Thursday by an unexpected visit from Mr. and Mrs. Albert Steves, Sr., of San Antonio. The two gentlemen were classmates in their young manhood at the Washington and Lee University in Virginia and have kept alive the friendship thus formed through all the years of active business and professional life that have followed their school days. Mr. Steves is the head of the lumber firm of that name in San Antonio.

Those who enjoy dancing will have the opportunity to attend several dances during the next two weeks, including modern dance orchestras and a German band. Paul Tschirhart and his Orchestra of Castroville will fill two engagements, one at Wernette's Garden Hall, Sunday, July 17, at Castroville, and on July 23 at the Quilhi Gun Club where he will play music for young and old. This Saturday, July 16, the Hondo Dance Committee brings a sensational 11 piece orchestra, the Dixie Revelers, to the Fair Grounds Hall for a big dance lasting from 9 P. M. to 1 A. M. The following night, Sunday, July 17, Mr. Tragger of Electric Park Hall, Castroville, presents something new and different in the way of dance orchestras. Otto Niemeyer's German Band will furnish the music with special features of Mr. Niemeyer and his flute. The old time German melodies will please the hearts and feet of young and old. See their advertisements elsewhere in this paper.

Mrs. Susan Thurston Safford of San Antonio was here today visiting her friend of long standing (We won't say how many years!), Mrs. O. Haralson. Mrs. Safford was for thirty-five years a resident of Beeville, during which time her husband was connected with the railroad service at that place, and during that time served as the first President of the Fifth District of Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers Association. During tenure of her office, Mrs. G. W. Monkhouse of this place served the Association as its Treasurer. Mrs. Safford's visit here was greatly enjoyed by all of her friends.

The luncheon club was favored Tuesday by a musical program with Mrs. George Windrow at the piano and Mr. Ulrich Burger playing the saxophone. Both are accomplished musicians and their selections were very much enjoyed. After the luncheon Rev. R. W. Merrill addressed the membership briefly on civic unity and cooperation. President Gariand Martin congratulated the highway committee on the progress being made in securing consideration for the Devine-Hondo highway.

Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Merrill are enjoying a visit from Rev. Merrill's daughter, Miss Myrtis Merrill, of Dobbs Ferry, New York. Miss Merrill arrived here on the 8th instant and will spend about ten days here and return to New York State by way of Abilene and Dallas to visit other relatives. Rev. and Mrs. Merrill will accompany their daughter to both places, returning to Hondo from Dallas. Miss Merrill is a teacher at Dobbs Ferry, and this is her first visit to Hondo.

PROGRAM FOR TEXAS AGRICULTURAL WRITERS' CONFERENCE.

Farmers' Short Course, A. & M. College, College Station, Texas, July 25-29, 1932.

Editors of newspapers and periodicals and all members of their staffs and all persons engaged in writing for newspapers and magazines are cordially invited to attend these sessions and take part in the discussions. Membership in the Agricultural Writers' Conference only involves attendance whenever opportunity offers. There are no fees or dues and those attending the sessions are quartered without charge in the College Hospital building. On arrival please go to the Hospital and register for assignment to quarters. Meals should be paid for each time as the weekly subsistence tickets do not provide for refunds in the case of any meals not used. A special low rate is made for the meals at the Mess Hall and all of the writers group should mess together in a room provided for that purpose. Arrangements have been made with the Railroad to use advertising to the amount expended for railroad transportation to and from the Short Course for bonafide editors or employees of the regularly published newspapers. A receipt should be taken from the Agent when the ticket is purchased and forwarded to the general passenger agent of the railroad when request is made for advertising contract. For further information address A. D. Jackson, College Station, Texas.
